U.S. OPENLY AMERICANS CHAMPIONS BREAK TWO OPPRESSED ATTEMPTS OF AUSTRIA AT TOWN

Government Expresses Sympathy for Nationalistic Aspirations of Down-trodden Jugoslavs and Czech-Slovaks

STATEMENT WIRED TO WORLD POINTS

Reports From Zurich State That Hungry and Rebellious People of Gratz and Laibach Are Fighting Huns in Street

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The cause of the oppressed subject peoples of Austria-Hungary was openly espoused by the United States government for the first time today. In a formal communication, the State Department declared that "the nationalistic aspirations of the Czech-Slovaks and Jugoslavs for freedom have the earnest sympathy of this government."

Copies of the communication were flashed to all parts of the world by cable and wireless. The action of the State Department, in line with the avowed friendship of this nation for all oppressed people, is expected to have a most heartening effect upon the struggling southern Slavs and Czechs. In some quarters it was accepted as indication that from now on a more definite support will be given those seeking to throw off the Austrian yoke. The statement was as follows:

"The Secretary of State desires to announce that the proceedings of the Congress of Oppressed Races of Austria-Hungary, which was held in Rome in April have been followed with great interest by the government of the United States and that the nationalistic aspirations of the Czech-Slovaks and Jugoslavs for freedom have the earnest sympathy of this government."

REHEARING TO BE ASKED ON GAS DATE INCREASED

An application for a rehearing of this case insofar as Alameda county is concerned will be immediately filed with the Railroad Commission. If San Francisco is entitled to a 35-cent rate, Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and the surrounding territory are entitled to the same rate. The company is not entitled to so excessive a profit in Alameda county, nor is it just that Alameda county consumers should be required to carry districts which show returns of but 5 and 6 per cent under the present increases.

The estimated increase in revenue in San Francisco is $400,000 for the coming fiscal year over the returns from the current fiscal year. That in Alameda county is $235,840, distributed as follows: Oakland, $23,584; Berkeley, $84,732; Alameda, $23,194; balance of county, $116,400. In the decision, the emergency conditions making necessary this increase in gross revenue were set forth by Commissioners Edgerton and Devlin as follows:

"There is here presented an emergency in the financial condition of the company. The marked and sudden increase in the costs of producing and distributing gas have resulted in such a diminution of the net income of the company as to seriously embarrass it unless relief is had through an increase of rates. These increases in costs have been wholly beyond the control of the company."

"The principal item is oil used in the manufacture of gas. The price of this commodity is unregulated and apparently advances in price are at the option of the large oil producers. These large producers will make no contracts at fixed prices

Arrival of Allied Reserve And Beginning of Counter Attacks Slowing Up Foe

(By Associated Press)

The German attack across the Aisne apparently is slowing down as the Franco-British troops begin counter-attacks on the wings and French reserves are rushing in to stem the enemy onslaughts in the center where it has reached the Vesle River. Around Fismes, about half way between Soissons and Rheims and the center of important allied communications, a desperate battle is being fought. Berlin claims the Germans have crossed the Vesle on either side of Fismes, but the French still are in the town and are holding it stubbornly while the reserves come up.

On the right, northwest of Rheims, the British are maintaining a commanding position north and west of the town of St. Thierry. French troops on the left have stopped the German onrushes by strong counter attacks and are holding firmly to the high points which dominate the Vesle. Heavy fighting continues all along the front from south of Pinon to almost north of Rheims.

Overwhelming numbers enabled the Germans in their first attack to penetrate the allied lines to beyond the Aisne and capture more than a half score of villages and 15,000 prisoners. The greatest advance was made in the center, four miles to the Aisne and then six to the Vesle, a total of ten. As in the offensives in Picardy and Flanders, the enemy advance has assumed the form of a blunt-nosed wedge with its apex less than three miles in width lying between Bazoches and Fismes.

Observers assert that forty-eight hours more probably will witness the halting of the forces of the German crown prince. The French reserves are moving forward swiftly and General Foch has the situation well in hand.

ITALIANS WREST MOUNTAIN FROM AUSTRIAN HORDE

ITALIAN ARMY HEADQUARTERS, May 29.—(By The Associated Press.)—One of the most brilliant mountain operations since the beginning of the war was carried out by the Italians in the Tonale region, northwest of Trent, early this week. The basin of Presena Lake was captured by Italian Alpine after forty hours of fierce fighting.

The Austrians were well entrenched. The great Presena mountain was reached by the Alpine after attacking four times under a heavy fire. The enemy was finally overwhelmed by a bayonet drive. The Italians advanced up steep ascents, down precipices and over glaciers.

ROME, May 29.—The brilliant victory of the Italians in the Tonale region was won in fighting on ground about 12,000 feet above the sea, amid melting snows and everlasting glaciers. The battle was remarkable on account of the highly specialized troops engaged and the mechanical devices applied.

Among the results of the Italian attack were the blowing up by artillery fire of an important Austrian munitions depot and the capture of two telegraph lines which ran through Paradise Pass. It required heroic efforts by the Alpine to carry the guns to the mountain tops.

Can't Shout "Extra!" Unless It's Extra

NEW YORK, May 29.—Newsboys who shout "Extras!" when there are no extras, simply to sell their wares, came under the ban of District Attorney Swann last night. He asserted they could be prosecuted not only for disorderly conduct, but for perjury, because they obtain money under false pretenses.

General Foch's Problem Is to Re-establish Equilibrium of Center: Clemenceau and the Kaiser Both Go to the Front

LONDON, May 29.— The transport Leasowe

Castle was torpedoed and sunk Sunday, the Admiralty announced today, with a loss of 101 lives.

The Leasowe Castle was a British transport, with a net weight of 5381 tons. She was built in 1916.

PARIS, May 29.—French reserves have been hurled into the battle of the Aisne, along the Vesle river, putting the brakes on the German offensive, which was evidently designed to capture Paris.

The Germans began assaults as a diversion. It is believed, but finding a weak spot, developed their possibilities to the utmost.

It is essential that the Vesle valley be held as far as Rheims, or the abandonment of that war-ridden city will be necessary.

There was steadiness of the wings, especially on the part of the British. The allies still hold the plateau to the northeast of Soissons, commanding the confluence of the Vesle and the Aisne and the heights south of Bortant.

On the right flank the British are astride the Aisne-Marne canal, holding the heights flanking it on the southern flank. The situation is far from desperate.

Allied reserves were brought up in perfect order. The enemy has already hurled three divisions into the battle. General Foch's problem now is to re-establish the equilibrium of the center.

HIGHER GUNS USED IN PARIS BOMBARDMENT

The Germans are now using guns of bigger calibre and a higher powered explosive for the bombardment of Paris. It is revealed by an examination of fragments of shells which fell in the city on Monday and Tuesday.

The Kaiser's soldiers crossed the Vesle river on a bridge of corpses after a most furious struggle around Fismes, says a despatch from the Aisne front. The Germans are now standing face to face with the allied reserve armies in that zone.

By HENRY WOOD, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, May 29.—Development of the German offensive up to the hour of calling appears to indicate that Ludendorff intends to drive a wedge through the Franco-British lines midway between Soissons and Rheims.

The Germans apparently have engaged a minimum of twenty-five divisions, before which the French and British in the front lines are putting up a dozed resistance in order to permit reserves to intervene and turn the tide.

The German attack, in the Soissons-Rheims sector extended the offensive front from Rheims to Flanders mountains until now it constitutes a battle area 300 kilometers (186.3 miles) across.

The reserves concentrated 100 kilometers north of Rheims were hurled to the front Sunday night in an attempt to bring about a brief but unusually intense bombardment of the French front lines on Monday morning, including gas troops and specialized assaulting troops including the Fourth and Fifth divisions of Prussians, which

20 Germans Try To Make Hopper Take Them Prisoner

WITH THE AMERICANS IN PICARDY, May 29.—An instance of the Boche's anxiety to surrender in the Cantigny battle was furnished when a group of twenty tried to be captured by an unarmed correspondent.

"Jimmie" Hopper, former University of California student and famous magazine writer, went over the top with the Americans. As he was entering Cantigny, a crowd of Germans rushed at him begging to be taken prisoner.

Hopper was nonplussed, but called to an officer: "Come and get 'em."

Irving W. Wood, a first lieutenant, emphasized in despatches today as a hero, and wounded slightly in the successful attack by American soldiers on the German lines west of Montdidier, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wood, 641 Fifty-sixth street, of this city. Lieutenant Wood came out of the attack wounded, but cheerful and full of enthusiasm and grit.

"It was like a football game, only more excitement and more gallantry and go on the part of the men—better than any football game I ever saw."

"We've got the Hun on the run. All we need is more Americans, and then watch us push them back."

"When I was wounded it was like a clip on the leg. Nothing serious I hope."

Lieutenant Wood said that he did not see one of his men fall in the charge through No. 1 Man's Land. One member of the company was found today in a shell hole in No. 1 Man's Land with two wounded Germans as his prisoners.

He was unable to get back to the American lines, so stood guard until the attack the following morning liberated him and secured the two Germans to the Americans as prisoners. The attack in which Lieutenant Wood was wounded occurred Monday night.

TELLS OF OTHER BATTLE IN LETTER.

Young Wood was graduated last June from the University of Wisconsin and immediately enlisted and was sent to Fort Sheridan, from whence he went to France about seven months ago. In letters received last month he told his parents of the work drilling his men, of the sham battles under the moon and stars during which his company was initiated into the work of storming trenches and going through maneuvers at night. The description he wrote of this night maneuver probably would

OAKLAND MAN HAS HARD TRIP OUT OF RUSSIA

Traveling a thousand miles through Russia and Finland, where Red and White Guards locked horns in the struggle for the frozen North, and an American flag was the only emblem which would guarantee personal safety, Arthur F. Bull, Oakland man, and one of a party of four American men, has just arrived at his home, 2215 Telegraph avenue, after a remarkable journey from Petrograd via the Swedish route to New York. Bull's story of the trip reads like a Robert Louis Stevenson novel.

Bull is a manufacturer of artificial limbs. He was official maker of limbs for the Russian government. He left Oakland in 1916 to take that position, and with all the help he could muster, he was able to turn out some 4000 artificial limbs for the Russian army.

He declared that thousands more are needed—thousands that he could not supply through lack of technical workers. He was in the midst of the Russian revolution in the nation's capital and left when bloodshed was at its height.

PRINCIPALITIES. During his stay in Russia, Bull was in Moscow, Kiev, Odessa and others of the principal cities. When the revolutionary trouble broke out, he says the Americans were the safest. Most of them were comparatively free from interference. Finally fourteen of them started for home by way of Finland.

"Never in my wildest dreams could I imagine anything like that trip," he says. "We arrived in Helsinki, the capital of Finland, when the place was in the throes of the Socialist revolution. The Finnish soldiers who had formed one of the principal units of the Russian army returned home with arms and ammunition when Russia withdrew from the great conflict. These found their way into the hands of the Socialists. The Red Guards and the White Guards were at each other's throats and we came between the split."

"Finland is a manufacturing community. There are only about 3,000,000 persons there, but the cutlery plants and machine works are among the finest in Europe. This represented valuable holdings for any force or body of men and they became legitimate prey. We made our escape while the Red and White Guards were battling through the battle line, with the white northern border of Finland shut out from the rest of the world by entrenched soldiers."

CALL ARMISTICE. "When it became known that a party of Americans wanted safe conduct, an armistice was declared by both sides for one day. They then spoke to America as the one hope of freedom. With only an American flag fluttering in the still cold air above our heads, we went between those battle lines on which the dead were spread out in dark blotches. Not a machine gun rattle was heard. I spoke. It was in dead silence that we crossed that frozen 'No Man's Land' of ice and snow, while all hostilities were suspended until we were safely over. It was one of the greatest tributes to the Stars and Stripes I have ever seen."

"From Northern Sweden we went into Norway and from there to New York. On all sides we saw the terrible ravages of the war. The people went about with thickened faces and blackened eyes. The black of mourning, Russia was a constitutional monarchy. The best people—those that the iron hand of some czar is needed to bring order out of chaos until the mass understand their obligation to a better degree. It seems almost certain that some dictator will emerge from it all."

NEED RUSSIA. "Europe, all Europe, needs Russia. It needs the food supplies that come from there. Finland is starving because that supply has been shut off, and is in the most critical condition of any country of Europe today. The ignorance is appalling. In Russia only about ten per cent of the people can read and write. In Finland it seems to be less. Finland is the stricken Belgium of the north, for while it has not been ravaged by the invasions which have wiped out Belgium, it has suffered in men, money and supplies. And there is nothing to replace it. The intense cold complicates it still more."

Bull has returned to America to buy up supplies for his replacement work among maimed soldiers—supplies which he cannot get in Europe. He will return the latter part of the year.

Questions About Margaret McGown Are Not Essential

GIRL AND HER BETRAYER ARE OUT OF CASE

New Letters Tell Public Feeling in McGown Case

While today's letters dealt in large measure with the primary question as to whether Malcolm McGown, slayer of R. G. Groden, should be granted probation, two of them, both from women, were in effect direct replies to letters published yesterday from Mrs. E. Booth and Mrs. R. B. S., who opposed granting probation. The letters follow:

NOT GO UNCHALLENGED BY OTHER MOTHERS.

Dear Margaret McGown, tell the truth. Did her mother take proper care of her? Was Rasmus Jacobson Groden, the man who betrayed Margaret McGown and who was slain by her father, an "honorable man"? These questions may be of interest according to Adult Probation Officer Leonard Compton, in whose hands the case of Malcolm McGown rests, but they are not the fundamental question.

"It is not McGown who has applied for probation," said Compton today after going through a mass of letters which arrived in the past 24 hours. "Neither is Mrs. McGown or Margaret McGown on trial. Persons may have extremely diverse views about what they should or should not have done, and may be deeply interested in discussing these matters. But they are not essential parts of the case of McGown himself and his application for probation."

"That must stand or fall on its own merits, and not on what we may think about the answer to these other questions. McGown killed Groden, and when he did so he undoubtedly believed that Groden had wronged his daughter, and he apparently believed that he was going to make public the disgrace that had fallen upon the family."

"A decision by a probation officer to free a man on probation in a case such as this cannot be construed as a justification for a man taking the law into his own hands. It merely means that we have come to an understanding of his case as far as this is possible, and that the law itself is willing to grant a man who has violated it an opportunity to remain law-abiding in future if the chances appear to be that he will justify himself by becoming a useful member of society."

Compton is still awaiting the result of tests being made by Dr. Jau Don Ball of the physical and mental condition of McGown and the possible relation between his act of violence and the fact that he is an epileptic. He hopes that the results will be sufficiently definite to justify him in reaching a decision on the McGown case.

Identification Must Be Handy, Is Edict

Not only do you need to have your registration card handy when they ask you, but according to an announcement by District Attorney Ezra W. Decoto, if you ride in automobiles you will need hereafter to have your identification card and auto operating license in your pocket, so much so that you will be liable by the necessity of swearing out warrants for offenders without having the name to insert that the district attorney has made it a rule that if you want to violate the traffic ordinance of the county and state you will have to identify yourself promptly, if caught. Hereafter when you are arrested by a speed cop you will have to show the license with your signature on it and you will have to be able to duplicate the signature.

Mrs. Robt. Fitzsimmons Joins Salvation Army

NEW YORK, May 29.—Mrs. Robert Fitzsimmons, widow of the famous pugilist, has joined the Salvation Army, it was announced today. She will don the uniform next Tuesday. Mrs. Fitzsimmons spent many years on the stage. She is French by birth and met Fitzsimmons in Paris. They were married in Washington in 1901.

Mr. Leonard Compton, Adult Probation Officer. Dear Sir: I need not point out to you that statements made in the letter to you from Mrs. R. B. S. in yesterday's TRIBUNE would be absurd if they were not tragic when coming from a woman. I realize that you will not give much weight to the statement of a woman who says that she would trust her own daughters anywhere with a man of Groden's type. But it seems to me that a statement of that kind should not go unchallenged by other mothers.

Mrs. R. B. S. wrote that "when every man starts to take the law into his own hands and shoots the man who has wronged his daughter, the men in this world will be few and far between." I find it difficult to understand how a woman could utter so vile and false a charge against the manhood of this country as that. Certainly her standard of morality must be a strange one. That charge is equivalent to saying that a woman could utter so vile and false a charge against the manhood of this country as that. Certainly her standard of morality must be a strange one. That charge is equivalent to saying that a woman could utter so vile and false a charge against the manhood of this country as that.

Gilbert Parker gave fine expression to the basic principle of American chivalry in the words of one of his characters in the "Pierre" stories. It was this: "Keep your eyes on the women, whether she be pure or foolish." American men and boys hold such an ideal as that. Right relations between boys and girls and men and women depend upon mutual respect and mutual respect, not upon a war in which each is continually trying to outwit and betray the other.

There has been a denial, even by Groden's brother and friends, that he wronged this girl whether she was "pure or foolish." She was 16 years old or less, when this occurred. I think that this being the case, we can safely dismiss Groden from our considerations. He is dead, and so far but few persons have arisen with a desire to defend his "honorable name," or names, for he seems also to have been known as Jacobson. The thing that is of importance is whether McGown can be trusted to return to his home and freedom, to take care of his family, if he is there, is any justifiable way this can be done, that it should be done. For myself, I would much prefer to take my chances in community with the man who has wronged me than with one made up of "honorable men" like Groden.

Very truly yours,

MRS. R. B. S., Oakland.

(Name withheld by request).

FACED OUTRAGE IN HER OWN RESIDENCE

Blue Bird Bureau, Oakland TRIBUNE.

Dear Sir: In regard to the Malcolm McGown case, knowing neither parties, I believe Mr. McGown should be set free.

The beast entered their home as a friend and betrayed their daughter, only a child. He was about twenty years older than the girl. His idea was to betray her, then marry her. Mrs. McGown by all accounts kept her daughter home, for the beast attacked her in her own home.

Mrs. E. Booth of Oakland said Groden wanted to marry Margaret; would she have had a daughter of hers (only a child) betrayed by a beast and then want her to marry him?

Mrs. R. B. S. of Oakland (a mother) says Groden was a man to be trusted and a man of "honor," says she would trust him with a daughter of hers.

Our boys in the trenches are fighting such beasts as he, that go into homes and do as he did. My brother is in the army and I hope he will do his part to stamp out such men as Groden proved himself to be.

He was not an honorable man and proved how he could be trusted, and he certainly belongs under six feet of sod.

Respectfully,

MRS. W. E. FEHR, Oakland.

"WOMEN IN PARALLEL CASES ARE SET FREE"

Oakland, May 29, 1918.

Editor of Oakland TRIBUNE: Dear Sir: Yes, indeed, I think that Malcolm McGown should be free long ago. If a woman did such an act she would have been free long ago, but being a poor, world goes. Look at the women that have been sent free lately who committed murder with but half as much cause as Mr. McGown had. Yes, free him at once.

A LADY SUBSCRIBER.

MRS. L. K.

1922 MUSIC IS MADE FIRST AID TO SHIPBUILDING

VALEJO, May 29.—Mare Island mechanics are preparing to smash another record, as it was announced officially yesterday that the new destroyer on the ways just south of the cantilever crane will be launched Saturday, or just seventeen days from the time that her keel was laid. Last year at Mare Island it required sixty-five days to build a war craft. To date that record has never been broken.

The Mare Island officers have issued orders to have a band furnish music in the vicinity of the ship during the noon hour for the benefit of the mechanics who are working there on, and efforts are being made to have high class entertainers on hand throughout the remainder of the week to put "pep" in the men who are laboring from sixteen to eighteen hours a day to establish a new shipbuilding record at the Mare Island navy yard.

Schooner Expansion Will Be Total Loss

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—The schooner Expansion, which sailed from this port April 13, is reported to have been a total loss, according to a despatch received today by the marine department of the Chamber of Commerce from Suva, Fiji Islands. The vessel stranded last night during a storm. The crew was saved, and it is hoped that part of the cargo of case oil may be saved, according to this despatch.

The Expansion is owned by Sanders & Kirchman of San Francisco.

REVENUE BILL WILL REACH NEW SOURCES

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The new revenue legislation urged by President Wilson Monday will reach out into many heretofore untouched sources of taxation. This was predicted today by leaders who will have charge of a new bill despite the general understanding that the levies are to fall almost exclusively upon incomes, war profits and luxuries.

The word "luxuries" is to be regarded as an elastic term, it was said. For instance, among the miscellaneous taxes which may be proposed will be a small levy, perhaps a fraction of a cent, upon a box of matches. Insignificant as this may seem, it indicates how far into the every-day life of the average citizen the new taxes will extend. Leaders expect that the new bill will produce an estimated yield of approximately $4,000,000,000 if the wishes of the Administration are carried out. This would just about double the present Federal tax levy and, leaving out of consideration loans to the allies, it would approximately put into effect the plan of meeting all war expenses upon the ratio of 40 per cent of taxes and 60 per cent of bonds.

In round numbers the new revenues will be levied in something like this manner, according to Senators and Representatives closely in touch with the situation today: War profits, $2,000,000,000; Luxuries, $1,000,000,000; Incomes, $1,000,000,000.

These figures, of course, it was pointed out, may fluctuate a few odd millions one way or another and will be subject to many changes in the tortuous journey through the various parliamentary stages to final enactment.

Object to Sale of Northern Electric

Unless the sale of the Northern Electric Company to the reorganization committee for the price of $1,750,000 is disapproved on appeal by the minority stockholders, who are objecting, it is believed, the committee, of which Frank B. Anderson is the head, will be able to arrange for the issuance and sale of $3,500,000 worth of securities and succeed in rehabilitating the system. The sale, just announced, was authorized by Federal Judge M. T. Dooling, and the price paid was fixed by the court. The purchasing committee will secure control upon payment of $500,000.

The sale had been ordered under the foreclosure of mortgages of $1,086,000. It is expected that John P. Coghlan, government receiver in charge of the property, will be made president of the new company. He has been operating at a profit.

New Rate Data is Received at Capital

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Suggestions for modification of the general scale of freight and passenger rates have begun to reach the railroad administration and are being filed for later inspection by administration rate experts and the Interstate Commerce Commission. Officials explained that many changes would be made and that letters explaining apparent injustices would be welcomed.

Regional directors have made arrangements for the issuance of new company and other tickets June 30, when the higher passenger fares go into effect.

"Battalion of Death" Chief in Washington

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Mme. Marie Botchkarova, former commander of the Russian regiment of women known as the "Battalion of Death," was in Washington today. Mme. Botchkarova arrived at a Pacific port two weeks ago. She called during the day on Secretaries Lansing and Baker at the State Department. It was said she was seeking aid for Russia, but officials did not say what kind of aid, whether military, political or financial was asked.

Trade Commissioner Opens Three Branches

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Three branch offices, located at New York City, Chicago and San Francisco, will be opened by the federal trade commission. They are deemed necessary in order to avoid the delay and expense of travel to these three centers where much of the commission's business originates, says an announcement today. D. N. Dougherty will be in charge at San Francisco.

Draft Subjects Not at Home to Register

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Provost Marshal General Crowder today notified draft subjects away from home that they must register with the local board in whose jurisdiction they are sufficiently in advance of June 5 to enable the boards to send their certificates to their home boards. Registration is completed at the office of the home boards.

Flour Sales Halted In North for Month

PORTLAND, Ore., May 29.—Retail flour dealers of Multnomah county, meeting at the call of the Oregon food administration, unanimously adopted a resolution to halt all sales of wheat flour for a period of one month, until July 1. They voted also to turn back to the government, for shipment overseas, all white flour now in stock.

A Chance That May Never Come Again. Watch For it

They were three bold, bad burglars. They chose a handsome white residence on Oakland avenue for their operations. Two remained outside as look-outs. The third entered through a window. Cautiously he crept through the darkened rooms to the lower floor. He went by a sense of feel and touch. The hallway loomed ahead and the stairs. He started up the stairs, slipped under him and his heel clattered on the polished woodwork. In tense silence he held his breath and listened. Had they heard him? They had. A querulous voice broke out—somewhere up above, the voice of a woman—speaking to him.

FRANKFURTER CALL BRINGS PROMPT RESULT

There is a man named Frankfurter staying at the Hotel Oakland. When the bellhops page him in the lobby it causes a riot.

Yesterday a traveling salesman walked up to the clerk's desk to register.

"Calling for a frankfurter," shrieked the bellhop in his ear.

The salesman turned with a weary expression, opened his grip, took out a frankfurter and handed it to the astonished bellhop.

"Here," he said. "Take it and shut up. I don't know how you knew I had 'em."

He was a salesman for a wholesale meat company, and his grip contained his samples.

JOHN HAPGOOD—DEAD—BY THUNDER

Wilbur Walker of the Merchants' Exchange remembers the time when Indians did business with wampum on what is now Broadway and wild crows were the only things that traveled without steering.

There was a cemetery in what is now the center of town, and a man with a tombstone and an epitaph took premier rank with Ramez and his fellows. This only tombstone maker and colner of epitaphs was an aged human who went by the name of "Sour" Bill.

Among the early families was one Henry Hapgood. Henry had a son, John. John was walking in the meadows at Fourteenth and Broadway one evening, during a storm, when he was struck by lightning. Hapgood repaired to

"Nontax" Is Held In County Jail

"I will not fight; I'm neutral, and I hope the Kaiser wins," is the language reputed to Theodore Reenders, a dairyman of Modesto, by the peace officers of Pleasanton, who thought the saying was sufficiently unique to be repeated under the auspices of the courts and preserved in the records. So they took him down to Sheriff Frank Barnett's hotel, there to ruminate for a day or two while they are arranging the setting for the official enunciation of the proclamation. District Attorney Ezra W. Decoto is informed that there are people who will make affidavit that the language as quoted was used by the dairyman.

Prepare to Care for Crippled Soldiers

An "employers' census," to ascertain how many factory men in Oakland can and will employ crippled and disabled soldiers, was started today by the Manufacturers' Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, at the request of the Red Cross. So far there is a list of 40 employers willing to furnish employment to such men as can perform limited work.

Lists of the factories and number of men they can employ, also in what capacity, will be kept on file by Secretary Frederic Boegle at the Chamber.

WIDOW SEEKS ALLOWANCE OF $200 A MONTH

Mrs. Elizabeth Clara Myers, former divorced wife of the late J. S. Myers, realty operator of Oakland, who left an estate valued at $300,000, today appeared before Judge Joseph S. Koford in the probate department to urge her application for a family allowance from the estate in the amount of $200 a month. There was one child born to the couple, a girl, now 12 years old. The application was opposed by the administrator of the estate on grounds that the applicant having been divorced, there can be no such thing as a "family allowance."

In 1913 Myers made an agreement with the mother of his child by which he was to pay $75 a month for two years. Evidence was offered to show that after the expiration of the time Myers continued the allowance. The application was not finally disposed of.

Live More Simply, Says Bonar Law

LONDON, May 29.—Chancellor A. Bonar Law told today of the requirements to be followed by civilian Great Britain, especially as to the financial situation, in order that every assistance might be lent to the winning of the war. He said: "Lives must be lived more simply; extravagance must be reduced to a minimum; all surplus earnings over expenditures must be invested in war bonds; all bank deposits must be similarly invested in war bonds; subscriptions must be twenty-five millions sterling weekly."

Chancellor Law was confident that the patriotism of the nation would make the rationing of money unnecessary.

Tonight! Take Dodson's Liver Tone! Better Than Calomel For Liver

Calomel sickens! If bilious, constipated and head-achy read my guarantee.

Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating calomel with its bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work!

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile, creates into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out" if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a low price. Take a spoonful tonight, and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous in the morning, I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is "destroying" the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't harm anyone and they love its taste.—Advertisement.

"MY POP CAN!"

There are no limitations to "Pop's" ability in the minds of his flock of interesting kiddies. Often "Ambrose", the boy next door, challenges this belief and boasts of what "my maw" knows. There is usually a strong answer to this, "Pop" himself becoming arbiter. A five cent piece will have a strong influence on the mind of "Ambrose".

Cultivate the practice of reading "Say, Pop!". You'll soon get the habit.

Oakland Flyer Does Stunts in Arkansas

An Oakland boy, Lieutenant Rexford B. Levisse, furnished thrills for people of Pine Ridge, Ark., a few days ago by flying a few circus stunts on the occasion of the Red Cross drive in Pine Ridge. With Lieutenant Levisse was Lieutenant Joseph E. Meagher of San Francisco. Both youths have been flying for some years a short time, but have become expert. The Little Rock Gazette tells of the affair in a special from

"With an airplane exhibition by aviators from Eberts Field, a band concert by the 345th Regiment Band from Camp Pike, an elaborate parade and a rally the second drive for the Red Cross war fund was inaugurated in Pine Bluff today. The airplane arrived from Eberts field at 3:15 o'clock. It was occupied by Lieutenants Joseph E. Meagher and Rexford B. Levisse. The aviators gave a thrilling exhibition over the city and then landed east of the city, where a permanent landing station for fliers from Eberts Field may be established. The fliers left on the return flight shortly after 4 o'clock."

In view of the fact as stated in court that John P. Beckrich is going to resign a $90 a month job and enlist in the army, Attorney M. L. Rawson, representing Mrs. Annie P. Beckrich, defendant in the suit for divorce tried today before Judge Conly, in which Beckrich proved desertion, consented to a nominal allmomy on the understanding that she would receive an allotment from the government for the support of their child.

Beckrich is a veteran of the Spanish-American war, and is so keen to fight that he has served notice on his employer that he intends to enlist.

4 EXPRESS COMPANIES ARE JOINED

WASHINGTON, May 29.—One union express company for the United States has been created by agreement between Director-General McAdoo and the Adams, American, Wells Fargo and Southern Express companies, whose transportation business will be merged under a new private corporation, with a capital of more than $30,000,000, to be known probably as the Federal Express Company. Geo. C. Taylor, now president of the American, will be head of the new concern.

After July 1, when the combination becomes effective, shippers will direct shipments "by express" without regard to company and soon thereafter the individual names of the separate companies will begin to disappear from wagons, stations and cars.

OTHERS MAY JOIN

The company will be the express-carrying agency of the railroads, operating privately, but under contract to turn over 50 per cent of the gross revenues—more than $200,000,000 last year—to the roads for transportation privileges. Three smaller railroad-owned companies, the Western, Great Northern and Northern, may join the combination later.

A pending application for a 10 per cent increase in rates filed before Government operation of railroads for the express combination was contemplated, will be passed upon soon by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

More than 100,000 employees of the four companies are to be retained under the new corporation and their wages will be raised in many cases, according to Taylor.

Through economies by the common use of wagons, trucks, distributing stations, city offices, warehouses, railroad cars and other equipment, and the simplification of accounting, the merged companies hope to save many millions of dollars and to render better service.

PERMANENT

Though the merger is arranged under war exigencies, it is planned as permanent and accomplishes the object which has been discussed in vain for almost a century of competitive conditions. Last year the four leading companies barely made expenses and the Adams recorded a deficit.

Early months this year showed even a worse record.

Some of the officials of the companies sought to have the railroad administration take over the companies along with the railroads and guarantee the express companies earnings, which would have been about $3,700,000 a year, but Director-General McAdoo declined to extend his field of operations to this extent.

The new concern, whose name will be the Federal Express Company, will have existing small companies, with that name in two states only, will have the actual value of properties pooled, and in addition enough stock to provide ample working capital.

The stock will be distributed among the four companies, according to the comparative value of the properties they contribute, to be determined after further valuation proceedings. Each of the companies will continue its financial business such as dealing in money orders, or foreign exchange and limited banking, individually, and with the union company as their agent. The corporate identities of the companies will be retained.

Out of the 43 per cent of gross earnings retained the union corporation will pay operating expenses, taxes and dividends of 5 per cent on its capital stock. Out of the next 2 per cent available for distribution the company will receive 1 per cent and the Government 1 per cent. Out of the next 3 per cent the company will get 1 per cent and the Government 2 per cent.

Villa's Chief Officer Makes El Paso Visit

EL PASO, Texas, May 29.—A Mexican with a wide scar on his cheek, dressed in tailored clothes and an expensive alpaca coat, stood on the Mills building corner here awaiting the arrival of a street car marked "For Mexico." He looked like a prosperous Mexican commission broker or a prominent government official. But a man acquainted with border life, and characters recognized in him, recognized Villa's second in command who had come in from Villa's camp in the foothills of Northern Chihuahua to buy some personal articles.

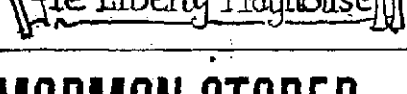

"But are you not afraid of being captured and shot?" he asked, as he swung on the car for Mexico, adding that he was going to Juarez to see his wife's relatives who lived in the Mexican town, which is garrisoned by Mexican federal troops. Such adventures are not unknown to the border, especially among Villa's followers as he encourages them to take long chances and has no one in his command who is afraid to accept such chances.

PANTAGES BILL FULL OF THRILLS

The bookers agents who assembled the new bill at Pantages this week were certainly at their best in making their selections. Six acts of an all-star variety are presented and represent the best extremes and extremes from which vaudeville novelties are obtained.

Mary Norman establishes a high point in character impersonation in an original monologue in which she presents half a dozen different types of femininity.

A strong dramatic sketch of the better order is found in "Just a Girl" presented by Joseph Byron Totten and Leslie Bingham.

"The Bellclairs" are two strong men with a varied athletic routine of sensational stunts.

Musical features of the program are offered in the Gullible sextet, four girls and two men who present classical selections and swimming routines. "Thousands of Miles Away" is an instrumentalist. Al Noda is a versatile chap, who plays, sings, juggles and dances. Lovers of animals will take delight in the act offered by Ganger's Canines. Another episode of the new program is "The Tiger Man" concludes the program.

TO OFFER PROGRAM AT NEPTUNE BEACH

Decorations Day will be fittingly observed at Neptune Beach with patriotic exercises and a high-class program of music and swimming races. Thousands of sailors and soldiers will be present at the ceremonies.

The "Defenders" Clubhouse, the gift of Neptune Beach to the soldiers and sailors, will be the headquarters of the day. During the afternoon a band will play on the beach and a quartet will sing the latest war songs.

But the greatest attraction of the day will engage in a series of races in the big tank and amateur boxers and wrestlers will display their prowess in the afternoon. A dance will be given in the afternoon and evening.

The school children of Alameda will be the guests of Neptune Beach Saturday, when the summer season will be officially opened.

SAY CONFIDENCE IN HUN LEADERS IS JUSTIFIED

AMSTERDAM, May 29.—"Our confidence in the Hun leaders is justified," says the Cologne Volks Zeitung, according to a despatch received here today.

LONDON, May 29.—"The crown prince is headed toward a disastrous defeat, probably as disastrous as Verdun," comments the Daily Sketch today. "Probably in a few days the Hun rush between Rheims and Soissons will be completely halted."

U. S. Urges Haste in Alien Prosecutions

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Striking sharply at the increasing German propaganda in this country, an order of the attorney-general to the federal courts today urged the rushing through of criminal proceedings against alien enemies.

While the order applies to all criminal cases, it is apparent that the action of the attorney general was aimed directly at those taken into custody under the espionage act.

Foreign Substance in Pitcher of Water

CHICAGO, May 29.—A preliminary test of the pitcher of water from which Mayor W. H. Thompson drank last Saturday night and afterward became faint while reading his platform in the opening of his campaign for the Republican nomination for United States senator, gave indication of some foreign substance, it was announced tonight. City chemists are making the analysis.

Army and Navy to Note Memorial Day

SAN DIEGO, May 29.—Memorial Day will be observed at Camp Kearny, Fort Rosecrans and Balboa naval training camp tomorrow and every church and society in the city will hold services according to President Wilson's proclamation asking that the day be made one of public humiliation, fasting and prayer for the victory of the American armies.

NAZIMOVA IS AT AMERICAN

Madam Nazimova, famous Russian dramatic actress, in "Revelation," is at the American. As Joline, "a daughter of Joy," a Grizette of the Latin Quarter in Paris, Nazimova manifests that wonderful personality which has captured the world. Dressed as a bacchante, a priestess of Bacchus, god of wine and revelry, with leaves in her hair, a garland of grapes across her shoulders, with a goblet of revelry in the Paris cafe, of which she is the heroine of the habitude.

In addition to the story of the soul of a Paris grizette laid bare featuring the famous beauty, the American presents "Britain's Bulwarks," the latest official British war pictures. Also the American presents "The Studio Girl," a play which is projected. Accompanying this powerful program John Wharry Lewis and his orchestra present a varied and characteristic score.

An ultra-Bohemian cafe, providing the "brightest" wine, music and song—is the scene for the evening drama, fashioned after Mabel Wagner's novel, "A Rose of a Thousand Years." It reveals the art of the great Nazimova in a way unprecedented. "Revelation" is a mighty drama that reaches the heights of sublimity, and descends to the profoundest depths.

"The Brat" Opens at Auditorium Tonight

The new famous New York-Chicago Philadelphia-Boston comedy hit, "The Brat," written by Maude Fulton, one of the most famous dancers the stage has ever known, and presented by Fulton, is the name of her own play. Numerous notable successes, will be the attraction at the Auditorium Theater, for an engagement of four nights, beginning tonight. One of the most interesting features of this coming attraction is the fact that Miss Fulton also appears in the name of her own play.

"The Brat" comes to this city direct from an all season's run at the Theatre, New York City, where when it was first produced, it was hailed by the Metropolitan critics as a better play than the now famous comedy success, "The Girl of the Year." It has also met with great success in Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston and on the Pacific Coast, where it was shown for the first time on a snow storm of four nights, beginning at the Morosco Theater in Los Angeles. "The Brat" and Miss Fulton are now making a return tour of the coast, and both are expected to repeat their success of three years ago.

William Hart in the 'Tiger Man' at T. & D.

Typifying a character of the West as no other actor can, William S. Hart came to the T. & D. theater today in "The Tiger Man," the big feature of a double bill, also starring the lovely Constance Talmadge in "The Studio Girl." Both photographs are big productions in the sense that they feature a star of the stage and a star of the screen. The two actors will find a wealth of entertainment in the usual number of high-class singing and musical numbers, including Mlle. Mignon, the French songbird, and Allen Lane, the violinist, who will play the "Grandfather's Story." The Symphony concert by "Dickens's" musical artists will provide a rare treat to music lovers.

"The Planter" Offered at Broadway Theater

"The Planter," a seven-act feature drama, featuring Tyrone Power, one of the foremost of American romantic actors, is the Broadway feature.

The new drama is a pictured version of the famous novel of the same name written by Herman Whitaker. It deals with conditions in the rubber plantations of Southern Mexico. The novelist personally supervised the dramatization. "The Planter" will be presented today and evening only.

Thursday and Friday Chris Ray and Frank Keenan in a timely offering, "The Planter," the scenes of the story are laid in Virginia in 1861. On the same bill are Patsy Arbuckle and Mabel Normand in a feature comedy, "The Diving Beauty."

"Battalion of Death" Chief in Washington

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Mme. Marie Botchkarova, former commander of the Russian regiment of women known as the "Battalion of Death" was in Washington today. She made one of public humiliation, fasting and prayer for the victory of the American armies.

St. Denis Dances to Crowds at Orpheum

"The work of the dancer embraces in the aesthetic sense all the arts. Painting, architecture, sculpture and music must all be combined in its interpretations."

Thus spoke Ruth St. Denis, at the Orpheum this week in a repertoire of interpretative dances.

"Eastern art," continued Miss St. Denis, "is all spiritual, that is, shadow, and the western is all material. Besides, all art must make greater studies for the truth and go hand in hand with religion."

"I believe that Isadora Duncan and myself are the pioneers of this sort of dancing, as we were the first to dance without shoes or stockings. Our work has not conflicted in any way; yet we have each had many followers."

The other features on this week's bill include Tina Turner, the famous pianist; Harry Van Fossen, the blackface comedian; Lora Hoffman, celebrated prima donna soprano; the Norwegian nightingale; the Aerial Mitchell, flutist, Stein and Phillips, Louis Stone, the surprise dancer; and Charlie Chaplin in a new film comedy.

Double Bill Offered at Franklin Today

Starting today the Franklin Theater presents double bill, one of the greatest stories of the screen, dainty Ruth Clifford, in "The Guilt of Silence," a wonderful drama of Alaska, and William Desmond in "Society for Sale," a charming comedy drama of English society life. "The Guilt of Silence" is probably the most realistic Alaskan drama ever offered, as it was photographed in the high Sierras during one of the most violent snow storms of the season. It portrays every phase of Alaska mining and the life of the North. It is the story of a man who was stricken dumb by exposure to a snow storm, who is accused by an inate husband of an unpardonable crime, and because of his dumbness, was neither able to defend himself nor tell who was guilty, although he knew only too well. "Society for Sale" tells the story of a young man of the English nobility who had squandered his money and did not know which way to turn to meet his social obligations.

'MAN FROM HOME' AT YE LIBERTY

For the first time since the days of old Ye Liberty the patrons of the theater are having an opportunity to see Orrol Humphrey as he appears on the street in the leading role of Daniel Voorhies Pike, lawyer, from Kokomo, Indiana, in "The Man From Home," the dramatic comedy being presented at newly remodeled Ye Liberty this week with a new company.

Betty Brice is also a star this week in the leading role of the play in which she has innumerable chances to win the admiration of the audiences. Others who are scoring heavily are Ben Erway, Rupert Drum, William Mayton, Audie Duane, Calverly, Al Cunningham, W. W. Haig and a host of others. Drum, the new appointed stage manager, promises another great treat next week in "A Pair of Sixes."

Dug Fairbanks in "Mr. Fix It" at the Kinema

Dug Fairbanks has his dress suit on, but that doesn't prevent him from cutting up all sorts of dicos in "Mr. Fix It" at the Kinema, today and the rest of this week. However, in this play the athletic stunts are but a side issue. The main idea is that Dug is trying to see if he can beat Dan Cupid to the game of courting broken hearts.

Cleverly arranged is a wonderful anti-climatic dance and song by the Misses Thelma and Helen Morrow, which gives us in a nut shell what Dug puts over in his way—a message of life's tribulations and the way to beat them out. Only these little Misses give us this message in their own clever little way.

The balance of the program includes a Mac Sennet comedy, a Burton Holmes travelogue and the very latest News Weekly.

A RADICAL CHANGE.

While all the people, except possibly a few hard-headed railroad experts, acquiesce in the steps the government has taken in connection with the operation of the railroads—plan of administration, appropriations for betterments, and rate increases—it should be kept in mind that the motive makes all the difference in the world. The first and sole reason for the government's plans is to provide efficient and adequate transportation facilities for the nation's business. No one can venture to dispute that this is a worthy object, and since all must concede that the devices the government has adopted to achieve it are the only ones available, approval of the program is inevitable.

But it is a changed condition of affairs—a state of war—that puts the efficiency motive in the foreground. Having become both operator and regulator of the railroads, the government as regulator has entered into amiable relations with the government as operator. As regulator it has adopted an entirely different viewpoint than it took when the operator was private ownership.

Under the pre-war regime the government regulator evinced but slight concern about the continued efficiency of the railroads. Rates and profits were the main considerations and the modus operandi was to fix the rates so that there would be no profits from which to make appropriations for betterments. So the railroads, for the most part, had to borrow money for improvements, and thus, in an indirect and disguised manner, obtain a diversion of profits for betterments. The government regulator had not reached that point where he refused to allow the roads enough to pay their debts in small installments. However, many roads, whose obligations had become due in large sums, were forced into bankruptcy.

Under the program of federal operation the government will do the things it prohibited to the railroads. It will raise rates to meet increases in operating costs. Only a written proclamation is necessary. The laws which were invoked to prevent the private operators from maintaining the efficiency of their business are suspended.

But it is only of historic interest to dwell on these matters now. The increase in the wages of operatives was necessary to enable the employees to enjoy proper living conditions. The increased cost of fuel and other material is unavoidable. The only source of revenue with which to pay these increased charges is rates for traffic. The cost must be passed along to the consumer.

There may be some doubt as to whether the government has gone far enough in providing money for betterments. So far it has appropriated for this purpose only about two-thirds of the amount the private operators were accustomed to spend. The 100,000 freight cars ordered is only half the normal annual addition and will mean only a 5 per cent increase in present facilities. With the economies in car distribution and use, brought about by combinations of lines and restriction of the time allowed for loading and unloading, the 100,000 new cars may be ample. But if there is any doubt more new equipment ought to be ordered, let the cost fall where it may in the usual place. Let the repudiation of the old policy and motive of regulation be complete.

SOME EFFECTS OF NEW RATES.

That readjustments of methods in many units and lines of business will be necessary as a result of the increase in freight and passenger rates seems to admit no question. It also appears certain that many activities will have to be suspended on account of the added costs the new rates and others recently put into effect will comprise.

Take the commercial traveler as an illustration. A few months ago a salesman "on the road" for a Boston House could get a round-trip ticket to San Francisco via Seattle for $132. Charges for excess baggage, Pullman accommodations and meals brought the actual travel cost for the round-trip to about $250. The same salesman will have to pay about $500 for the same travel when the new rates are effective. It now costs him nearly that amount.

Say this salesman is a shoe drummer. He must pay out $500 before he sells a single pair of shoes. This is equivalent to 10 per cent on 10,000 pairs of $5 shoes. If his sales are large enough his company can meet the expense. But a 100 per cent increase in the cost of operating any business function is a very serious influence. Many of the smaller firms who may be just making "both ends meet" will have to curtail their sales force. It is not unlikely that they will be forced out of business.

The experience of the traveling salesman is typical of that of many other lines of business. Transportation, the distribution of commodities of trade, is an important factor in all commercial activities. In some it is a vital factor, determining whether a business shall thrive or die. It is a radical step to increase this cost by 100 per cent, and one that cannot be contemplated without some misgiving.

HE COULDN'T UNDERSTAND.

There appeared a few days ago in the casualty lists from France the name of a young California soldier—an Italian immigrant who had been drafted and sent to Camp Lewis with the first quotas called up. According to the statements of one of his comrades this foreign-born youth was distinguished during his training period for the mistakes he made. If the order was parade with overcoats he would appear in simple tunic. If without overcoats he was certain to wear one and be sent back to barracks to get into the proper uniform. He never could seem to get anything just right. Yet he was normally intelligent and there was no hint or suspicion of mental incapacity.

Now the reason this young man was listed among the killed in action may be that when ordered to lie down in the trench he jumped to the firing parapet and stuck his head over the top in the way of a Boche bullet. This may not be the precise way it happened, but it certainly is one way to get killed in battle.

Just as a concrete example of the benefit of educating our foreign-born population, is not this case rather pointed? There can be no greater penalty for the soldier's ignorance and our neglect than that which has been paid. Instruction in the English language and as to the laws, the life and the character of this nation is a duty toward the immigrant too long evaded. His loss is our loss, and it has been ten thousand times greater than a soldier fallen on the battlefield.

ANOTHER SUFFRAGE QUESTION.

In their desire to protect each individual State in the Union as much independent and exclusive government as possible, the framers of the Constitution almost neglected to mention suffrage at all. The qualifications of voters were left to the determination of the several States and the only restriction in the Constitution is that those voting for congressmen "shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State legislature."

It has recently been emphasized that some of the States are remarkably liberal in extending the privilege to vote. A few of the States permit foreign citizens to participate in the elections, and as a result alien enemies have operated in the very heart of the State government and have spread the propaganda of "Deutschum" with a lavish hand. This situation has received the attention of Congress and after 140 years of indifference an amendment to the Constitution has been proposed which will withhold from persons not citizens of the United States the right to vote. Representative Edmund Platt of New York has introduced it.

It would not be out of order to consider this prohibition against suffrage for foreign citizens at the same time Congress is debating whether it will permit the States to pass on an amendment extending the right to vote to American women.

A RESOURCEFUL NATION.

Of all the nations in the world the United States is the most independent industrially. Within our confines there is produced every cereal, every vegetable and every fruit grown in any zone; in our forests may be found every wood; from our mines are extracted ores of every metal—precious or base; our supplies of coal and of fuel oil are practically inexhaustible; in our machine shops and furnaces and forges and shipyards is made everything from a hairpin to a steamship; and there is not a tissue of cotton, wool, silk or hemp, from a spool of thread to a carpet, that is not made in our factories.

Great Britain, through her colonies in every part of the world, enjoys to a certain extent similar advantages, but her ships cross oceans to obtain what in this country may be secured by crossing a river.

NO PAUSE OR INTERMISSION.

The consideration that dominates every other now and makes every other seem trivial and negligible is the winning of the war. We are not only in the midst of the war; we are at the very peak and crisis of it. Hundreds of thousands of our men, carrying our hearts with them and our fortunes, are in the field and ships are crowding faster and faster to the ports of France and England with regiment after regiment, thousand after thousand, to join them until the enemy shall be beaten and brought to a reckoning with mankind. There can be no pause or intermission.

To President Wilson the country is indebted for the above short, terse and authentic presentation of the heart and mind of America.

NOTES and COMMENT

The San Jose manager has resigned. He gave the same reason that so many responsible citizens in every city urge for declining office—that he does not care to withstand the criticism and attacks that seem inseparable from efforts to serve the people.

The riveting contest is still going strong. Now there is an English record of 6783. The contestant who thought he was responsible for an achievement when he started off with four thousand and something could not have realized what he was starting.

An employee of the city who was arrested had Sinn Fein stickers in his possession, also lottery tickets, and was drunk besides. It would seem that a man on the payroll should be required to forego at least one of these luxuries.

They have started the submarine off—the Atlantic coast scare again, though the country was not suffering from ennui. However, we might as well withhold light remarks till it is determined whether there is foundation for it or not.

The new order of things on the railroads is bound to create a boom in auto truck freighting and auto travel. Though the freight rates for short hauls are to be doubled and passenger rates increased fifty per cent will furnish the incentive, especially over these roads that California has been building.

The President demands that the burden of tax be put on profiteers and luxuries. To which the country will readily assent if that is as far as the exaction will go. But in such instances there is always a fear of the unforeseen.

This Cuban-Mexican imbroglio is a mystery to the general public, which may not be inclined to go into it now, that any trouble at all has been diplomatically denied.

If the State Commission has no jurisdiction over inter-state railroads under the new order, it may concentrate on those that do not cross the line. It will have to keep its hand in—and its jobs on.

The sweeping increase of fares and freight rates will make everything higher. Few things that we buy escape transportation in one way or another.

A municipal cafeteria has been suggested for San Francisco. That would at least be more fitting than some of the municipal music that the city put up for during the past year.

Up to this time the irritation that some commuters have felt has been apparently due to thinking of the profits the railroad company makes in transporting all these people who are desirous of getting from one side to the other. Now they may enjoy variety in paying thirty cents extra on the monthly ticket, with nobody to listen while they kick.

It is inquired why an enemy, either alien or home-grown, should be employed on government work. The query is pertinent, and might be extended to include all public work. There are still loyal citizens to do the jobs that the public is taxed to pay for.

The editor of the Cloverdale Reveille has evidently experienced the startle from the honk: "A New York magistrate says a pedestrian, in crossing the street, must listen as well as look. Yes, then he must jump lively if he wishes to arrive home all in one piece."

Why Colonel House wasn't asked to investigate the work of the Aircraft Board is one of the deep, dark mysteries of the times. It looks like either an oversight or an intentional slight.—Springfield Union.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

On Wednesday afternoon of last week, Judge Sevier, chairman of the Humboldt county Council of Defense, District Attorney Hill and Sheriff Redmond met at the city hall with some fifteen citizens of Arcata, including Costabile John Mitchell and Marshal Frank Sapp, and discussed the question of a rock pile at Eureka for vagrants and those who refuse to work. Sheriff Redmond reported that he had some twenty "undesirables" in his custody, and that they would be put to work as soon as arrangements could be made at breaking rock in a county stockade. Every man would have a certain amount of work laid out to do, and would not be fed until he did his day's work.—Arcata Union.

There are two sets of people in the United States who ought to be well satisfied—those who were worried when immigration fell off and those who didn't want immigrants but wanted to keep America for Americans. The first can find comfort in the fact that we are managing to turn out a tremendous amount of work without the help of the hordes of raw immigrants they used to welcome. The others should be happy in the thought that the past three or four years combined have not given us so many immigrants from Europe as any one year before the war began.—Stockton Record.

"If John D. Rockefeller should ask you to lend him money at 4 1/4 per cent you would do it," reads an advertisement in the New York Evening Post. Indeed we would not. If John D. should ask us to lend him money at 4 1/4 per cent, or any other per cent, we'd buy two cigars, knowing that before we finished the second smoke the end of the world would come sailing along.—Richmond Record-Herald.

Economy should begin at the top. That is one reason why editors who receive the Congressional Record feel that the government is sometimes the worst offender of all. Page after page of drivel is being printed at public expense and good paper is being wasted, while the newspapers, which carry the war messages to the people, are facing a paper shortage.—Santa Rosa Republican.

HIGH EXPLOSIVES.

The best of modern explosives, trinitrotoluene or T. N. T., is being manufactured from toluene with the aid of nitric and sulphuric acids at the rate of many tons per day. The power of this explosive was never shown in a more tragic and overwhelming manner than in the recent destruction of Halifax, which was brought about by the explosion of a cargo of T. N. T. in the harbor. Other high power explosives, picric acid or trinitrophenol, gun cotton or nitrocellulose, nitroglycerin, the explosive ingredient of dynamite, and nitrogelatin, are being manufactured on a colossal scale under the direction of expert chemists. Let the comparison go a bit too fast and temperature control be lost, then the giant powers inevitably pass from the control of man, whose only safety lies in flight from the approaching volcanic upheaval.

For the scientist all of these high explosives are substances whose ultimate molecules are extraordinarily unstable, because they contain in closest proximity within each molecule the combustible component represented in ordinary gunpowder by charcoal and sulphur, and the oxidizing component represented in black powder by the nitre. Or, in more modern terms, these explosives contain huge quantities of electricity, in the form of electrons ready to leap within each tiny world like a flash from atom to atom, and when they do let go, producing gases that can raise cities and remove hills by the energy of their quick expansion. But "that is another story" to which I have referred only to emphasize that it is through our knowledge and control of this ultimate structure of matter that chemistry can transform at will the same crude material (toluene into a destructive giant like T. N. T., or into the fairies of modern realism—hypnotics, anaesthetics, and other curative agents.—Julius Stieglitz in the April Yale Review.

SIX DAYS MORE, THEN TRIBUNE DAY

MEMORY OF HERO DEAD TO BE KEPT GREEN

Memorial Day will be observed tomorrow as a holiday and as a day in which to do honor to the memory of those who have died in battle for this Republic might live, and to those who are fighting now that those principles fought for here in years ago be not swept from the earth by the Kaiser-driven hordes of Hunland.

In nearly all of the churches there will be memorial services, either in the forenoon or at night. The various posts of the Grand Army of the Republic, assisted by the auxiliary organizations, will participate in the ceremonies at the cemeteries. There also will be services in Lakeside Park.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION.
Calling attention to the day, Mayor John L. Davis issued today the following proclamation:

To the People of Oakland:
Thursday, May 30, is Memorial Day and this year it comes with greater significance than ever before.

This day came to us out of reverence for the heroes of the Sixties, the saviors of a great and free country whose sons of today are dedicating their lives in defense of the noble institutions handed down to them.

There is no North or South today. We are a united people with a patriotism and loyalty backed by the love of sacrifice for the right. In the ranks today we have Lieutenant U. S. Grant, grandson of the northern general, and Lieutenant Robert E. Lee, grandson of the southern commander. Every state, every section, is sending forth her tale of men to save the free institutions which America has proudly held up to the world.

Memorial Day now stands as a day to honor and commemorate the sacrifice of the Sixties, of Ninety-eight, and of today. "Over There" our boys are showing their valiance, loyalty and bravery that makes us proud to be Americans.

As we scatter flowers upon the graves of the Veterans our hearts will reach across the sea, and honor their sons and grandsons who have set out with American courage and determination to crush the Hun and prevent barbarism that knows no law of right and decency.

The spirit of our Veterans is with them. The courage and loyalty that survived internal strife is with them, in their very beings, evolved to an unconquerable power. The people of America are with them, heart and soul, and American hearts beat as one.

Let us devote this Memorial Day to our heroes all. Let us join in sending a message from the heart of America to France where our boys are fighting as monuments to our love of righteousness.

A united nation, a courageous people, for a righteous cause, will give this day in devotion.
JOHN L. DAVIS, Mayor.

DECLARE HOLIDAY.
The members of the Building Trades Council of Alameda County have declared the day a holiday, the following statement having been issued by Secretary F. H. Pratt:

"The Building Trades Council of Alameda County has declared Decoration Day, Thursday, May 30, to be a non-work day and instructs all members of affiliated unions, building mechanics and laborers, to observe the day as a holiday. All affiliated members are urged to give to the day its full significance, especially to devote it to honoring those American heroes who have made the great sacrifice in our present war and those of the other allied nations who have given their

It's The TRIBUNE'S annual treat to its friends.

TRIBUNE DAY has been enjoyed by crowds annually for years—every one knows it and knows it for the big joy-fest of the season—but this year it'll be bigger than ever before.

There'll be all manner of special stunts—something doing every minute of the day and night. Swimming races for the kiddies in the morning. Spectacles and special events in the afternoon. The great food conservation contest for the women. The riveting contest for the shipbuilders. A great free vaudeville show at night.

And this is a big surprise—some one will be given a splendid new Chevrolet automobile, fully equipped—and many other prizes will go to the lucky ones. You may get this. Every one will have a chance!

So remember!

YOU HAVE A DATE!

"Over the top" is the slogan of the live duty carriers who deliver The TRIBUNE. It is claimed for the carriers in The TRIBUNE Junior, a paper published in their interest, that they are "over the top" in everything. Their assembly room, for instance, is on the top of the new TRIBUNE building, where a well-furnished and sunny room has been placed at their disposal. The TRIBUNE Junior describes the opening of the "over the top" assembly room when George P. Webster, Oakland actor, addressed the boys, telling them to live good, clean, temperate lives.

CREDIT DUE BOYS.

The letter, addressed to Beverly Swabey, editor of The TRIBUNE Junior, follows:

"My Dear Mr. Swabey: I want to extend through my heartiest greetings to these carrier boys of The TRIBUNE Junior. I have a warm place in my heart for carrier boys. They all have to struggle, but for all of that it is worth while. Nobody wins in this life without a struggle. Anyone who thinks he can slide through without effort is pitifully mistaken. All credit to these boys who cry out the news or bring around the paper in the morning while we sleep or at evening when we are not used to it. It is a difficult and distant thing to speak to the boys by the roundabout course of a dictated letter. I wish I could see them face to face and talk to them. I should like to see all big boys in the field, ready to serve either in the field or at the bullet box as patriotism and duty may dictate. Of all things I love them stand ready to serve."

Conservation Race Is to Be Special Feature

Housewives! Planned your entry for the Food Conservation Contest yet? It takes place in just SIX DAYS!

The best conservation recipes of Oakland's housewives will be decided on AT IDORA, TUESDAY, JUNE 4.

That's the day official distinction will be conferred by the War Service League on the best "kitchen soldiers"—for the woman in the kitchen is just as much a soldier in this war as the man in the trenches—and the woman who invents a new way to save food for the soldiers and our allies is dealing a blow at the Kaiser, just as the man is who fires a cannon.

Oakland's housewives are "going over the top" at TRIBUNE DAY. When the great amusement park is taken over by The TRIBUNE, and when free passes to everything will be given every man, woman or child who asks for them.

The "Food Conservation Contest," under the auspices of the War Service League, will be a notable event. Housewives are to compete in recipes for wheatless bread, cakes and pies and sugar-saving jams and preserves, in canned vegetables and other foods.

RULES ARE SIMPLE.
The rules are simple—any recipe using less than 15 per cent of wheat flour may be submitted—but the absolutely wheatless ones will have the preference of the judges. Vegetable shortening must be used.

It is suggested that as little sugar as possible, and the same holds good for canned fruits. This is important.

The judges will be experts appointed by the War Service League. There will be a representative of the food administration, a practical man, in Maurice Perrin, maître d'hôtel of the Hotel Oakland, and several experts in dietetics.

Every recipe must be accompanied by a sample of the food made with it, submitted by the housewife submitting the recipe. A loaf of bread, for instance, must accompany the bread recipe, that the judges may see exactly what the bread is like. A similar small sample, a jar of jam, a few of the biscuits or cakes, a jar of the fruit or vegetables, must go with the recipe. Thus the judges will pass on the recipe.

ENTER DAY BEFORE.

Arrangements will be made that the housewives may bring their entries to the park the day before the contest—or on Monday, June 3, when they will be placed in the exhibit.

Full information as to this will be issued by the committee, with the judging, in a few days. In the meantime the housewife can prepare her recipe, figuring on entering it at any time next Monday at the park.

REMEMBER THE DAY!

Liberty Motor Is Faulty, Says Expert

NEW YORK, May 29.—Engineering faults of a grave character exist in the Liberty motor, declared Leon Cammen, an engineer and a vice-president of the Aeronautical Society of America, in addressing the society here last night, and he said an airplane equipped with it is "needlessly dangerous." The angle between the cylinders, the ignition system and the oil pump drain plug were the specific features of the motor criticised by Cammen.

TWO TOMATOES WILL NO LONGER COUNT AS ONE

"Two tomatoes the size of pigeon eggs, wrapped in one paper, equal one tomato!"

This is the new arithmetical and commercial rule invented by the Japanese farmers of Imperial—and it went, too, until state Fruit Inspector D. P. T. Macdonald reduced it to an absurdity today in the Oakland commission market.

Some time ago the fruit standard law went into effect, and the trick of putting small fruit at the bottom and big fruit at the top of a basket became unlawful. Farmers were warned. Goods were condemned in the local market and in others and sent back when so "topped." Macdonald looked the boxes over and observed that the bottoms and tops seemed uniform. Then he saw one "tomato" that seemed a peculiar shape, and unwrapped it. Two small tomatoes rolled out.

SAN JOSE AVIATOR WINS NEW BATTLE

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, May 29, by the Associated Press.

Lieutenant Edward V. Rickenbacher of Columbus, O., and Lieutenant Douglas Campbell of San Jose, Cal., yesterday forced a German biplane down out of control in the Bois de Rate, northeast of Xivray, in the Toul sector, during a battle with six enemy planes.

The German machines encircled the American pilots and attempted to drive them behind the German lines. Rickenbacher suddenly pounced on one of the enemy planes, and Campbell coming to his assistance managed to drive the enemy down.

It was Lieutenant Campbell, it has been established, who destroyed an enemy biplane near Essey, inside the German lines on the Toul front, yesterday in a battle a mile in the air. The German machine's wings crumpled and it crashed to the earth.

Manufacturers at "Trench Luncheon"

The regular Manufacturers' Bureau luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce was abandoned today, the manufacturers instead attending the "Trench Luncheon" at the Auditorium.

Yesterday was "School Day" at the Ad Club luncheon, when students in the various schools were the speakers. Sylvain Cohn, eighth-grade student in the Piedmont school, spoke on patriotism; Hardy Hutchinson, eighth grade student in the Grant School, told of the Liberty bond work; the schools; Marian Norris, Grant School, told of the work done by the schools in general in war drives; Stanley Holmes, senior in the Fremont High School, discussed conservation; Donald Gillies, poet of the high school, recited his own verses, and Christopher Jenks, University High School, told of his school's war savings drive.

Prisoner Confesses Plot to Kill Judge

MUSKOGEE, Okla., May 29.—A confession, the details of which have not been made public, has been obtained from William Rogers, one of four men arrested last night charged with conspiring to dynamite the homes of Judge Ralph E. Campbell, of the United States District Court and W. P. McGinnis, United States district attorney, according to an announcement by B. A. Enloe, Jr., United States marshal here.

It was announced that Harry Sherill, a chauffeur, one of the men under arrest, is absolved, as is Miss Bertie Thompson who accompanied him.

SHELVING OF WOOD LAID TO GEN. PERSHING

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Major-General Leonard Wood was removed from command of his division and relegated to command of the western department upon recommendation of General Pershing, it was learned on reliable authority.

It was stated flatly that the only hand the administration had in the matter was accepting the recommendation of Pershing, upon whom this country is now relying to win America's share of victory in the war.

Following his conference with President Wilson there was a report today that General Wood would be assigned to command American troops in Italy. It appears certain that he will not be placed where there would be danger of a clash between him and General Pershing. Army officers said today Wood aroused Pershing's displeasure by arranging for a personal inspection of Italian troops before completing Pershing's

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—

Brigadier-General Charles G. Treat, who had been notified by Washington that he would be succeeded here by Major-General Leonard Wood, today was without any orders following the information that came unofficially from Washington that General Wood would not be sent here but would be reassigned to a more active command as he requested.

General Treat, who under the previous orders to General Wood would have been sent to lead a division abroad, will remain here in charge of the western department until he receives new orders.

DATES SECURES I. W. W. EVIDENCE

CHICAGO, May 29.—The exploits of Joseph A. Dates, whose intrepid ventures carried him into the inner circles of the union miners who were at war with the I. W. W. in Arizona, were introduced in evidence today by the governor in the trial of 112 I. W. W. leaders for conspiracy to upset the nation's war plans.

Dates, acting as an organizer in the southwest mining regions just prior to the sensational wholesale deportations from Bisbee, was shown in a set of "Trench Luncheon" at the Auditorium.

Yesterday was "School Day" at the Ad Club luncheon, when students in the various schools were the speakers. A Home Industry Widely Recognized

It may not be known to those not well acquainted with local manufacturing that a Home Industry was the first to grind the new "Caltech" lens for far and near seeing. This accomplishment has attracted worldwide attention in optical circles as the most important step forward since the days of Benjamin Franklin, who invented in a crude form, the first glasses for this purpose. Scientific men concede that "Caltech" lenses overcome all objectionable features in other bifocals, thus putting this new lens in a distinctive class of its own.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, May 29.—All future deliveries of corn today touched new low levels for the season. Opening prices, which Varied from $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ off to $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ up, with June 13.34, July 13.35, and August 13.34, were followed by a slight upward and then downward swing to well below yesterday's finish.

Buying the part of shorts who desired to secure profits led to rallies, but in later dealings the weakness became more pronounced. The market closed at $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ settled, 14@13.1¢ net lower with June 13.34 and July 13.35@13.34.

After the close, the market after opening was lower to a like advance, with July 65¢@56¢, the market hardened a little and then underwent a decided sag.

There was a slight recovery in growth provisions. Weakness in the hog market and in grain fed back to act as an offset.

$277,000 RED CROSS TOTAL IN CITY; GROWS

With many hundreds of dollars in pledges and checks to be counted, Oakland's Red Cross total so far is, in round numbers, $277,000, and there is no doubt in the minds of the committee members that the $300,000 mark will be exceeded when the final figures have been compiled.

There are numerous organizations that have notified the Red Cross committee that substantial sums have been raised to go toward the drive total but these amounts have not been received. Individuals and members of the Woman's Army are making reports daily and it will be Monday or Tuesday before the final figures are available.

In what purported to be a correct list of subscriptions in various cities and towns of the state published in a San Francisco morning paper, the Oakland total is credited with only $156,442.48, when the total accounted for several days ago showed Oakland way over the top of its $200,000 quota.

Latest contributions received have come from Tailors' Union No. 265, $108.30; California Cotton Mills employees, $1700; San Francisco-Oakland Traction Company platform men and shopmen, $1830; Barbers' Union, Local 144, $200; T. L. S. union subscribed a total of $1088, but the remainder was allotted equally between Berkeley and Alameda.

Major Mrs. F. C. Rathbun and Captains Mrs. S. P. Forrest, Miss Gene Hieckel, Mrs. Alice O'Connor, Mrs. George Kleckner, Mrs. M. Roemer, of the Woman's Army turned in $112.21 as the result of their work on the Key Route ferries.

ALAMEDA, May 29.—Alameda is 100 per cent over the top in the Red Cross drive. Complete totals will not be available, probably, till late today, for precinct workers still have a few delayed cases to hear from. Alamedans temporarily out of town and who are either sending money or word that they will be home and contribute. The official figure yesterday afternoon showed that Alameda's $25,000 allotment had reached $49,700, with every indication that $50,000 would be reached when the last cent is in and tallied.

Early yesterday Director General E. E. Johnson of the Alameda drive announced enthusiastically that Alameda had already subscribed in cash $6000 more than the required $5,000, and had all of the pledges in addition. He had hardly finished making this report when Captain Roy Powell, one of the precinct captains to report last, appeared with over $400 more, showing the total at that time over the $10,000 mark.

"Love Liar" Will Give An Extra Matinee

CRANE WILBUR, who has been the day matinee on Decoration Day, of "The Love Liar" at the Macdonough Theater, where his sensational play has been presented to packed houses since its opening last Sunday.

Five leading ladies help to make the Macdonough stage most attractive these days, as they surround Crane Wilbur in the seductive scenes of "The Love Liar."

Miss Anna O'Day is the blonde beauty of the play—the vamps and the enchanting maiden whose wiles lure the susceptible violinist, David Leon, to his destruction.

One of the brunettes is Alice Elliot, whose rare talent and beautiful voice help her to make an appealing figure of the maiden lacerated by the rule whole infatuation for the aforesaid susceptible violinist, makes shipwreck apparently of her own happiness.

Still another brunette is Jane O'Rourke, who plays the dramatic lead in the role of Diana Strongwell, a good girl who marries David Leon.

Lucille Webster has the comedy lead, in the role of Mrs. DuPyster, a society matron with a sharp tongue, but a merry laugh.

Mrs. Crane Wilbur has the ingenue lead, Crane Wilbur revels in the leading role.

"Tribune" Employees Are Thanked for Aid

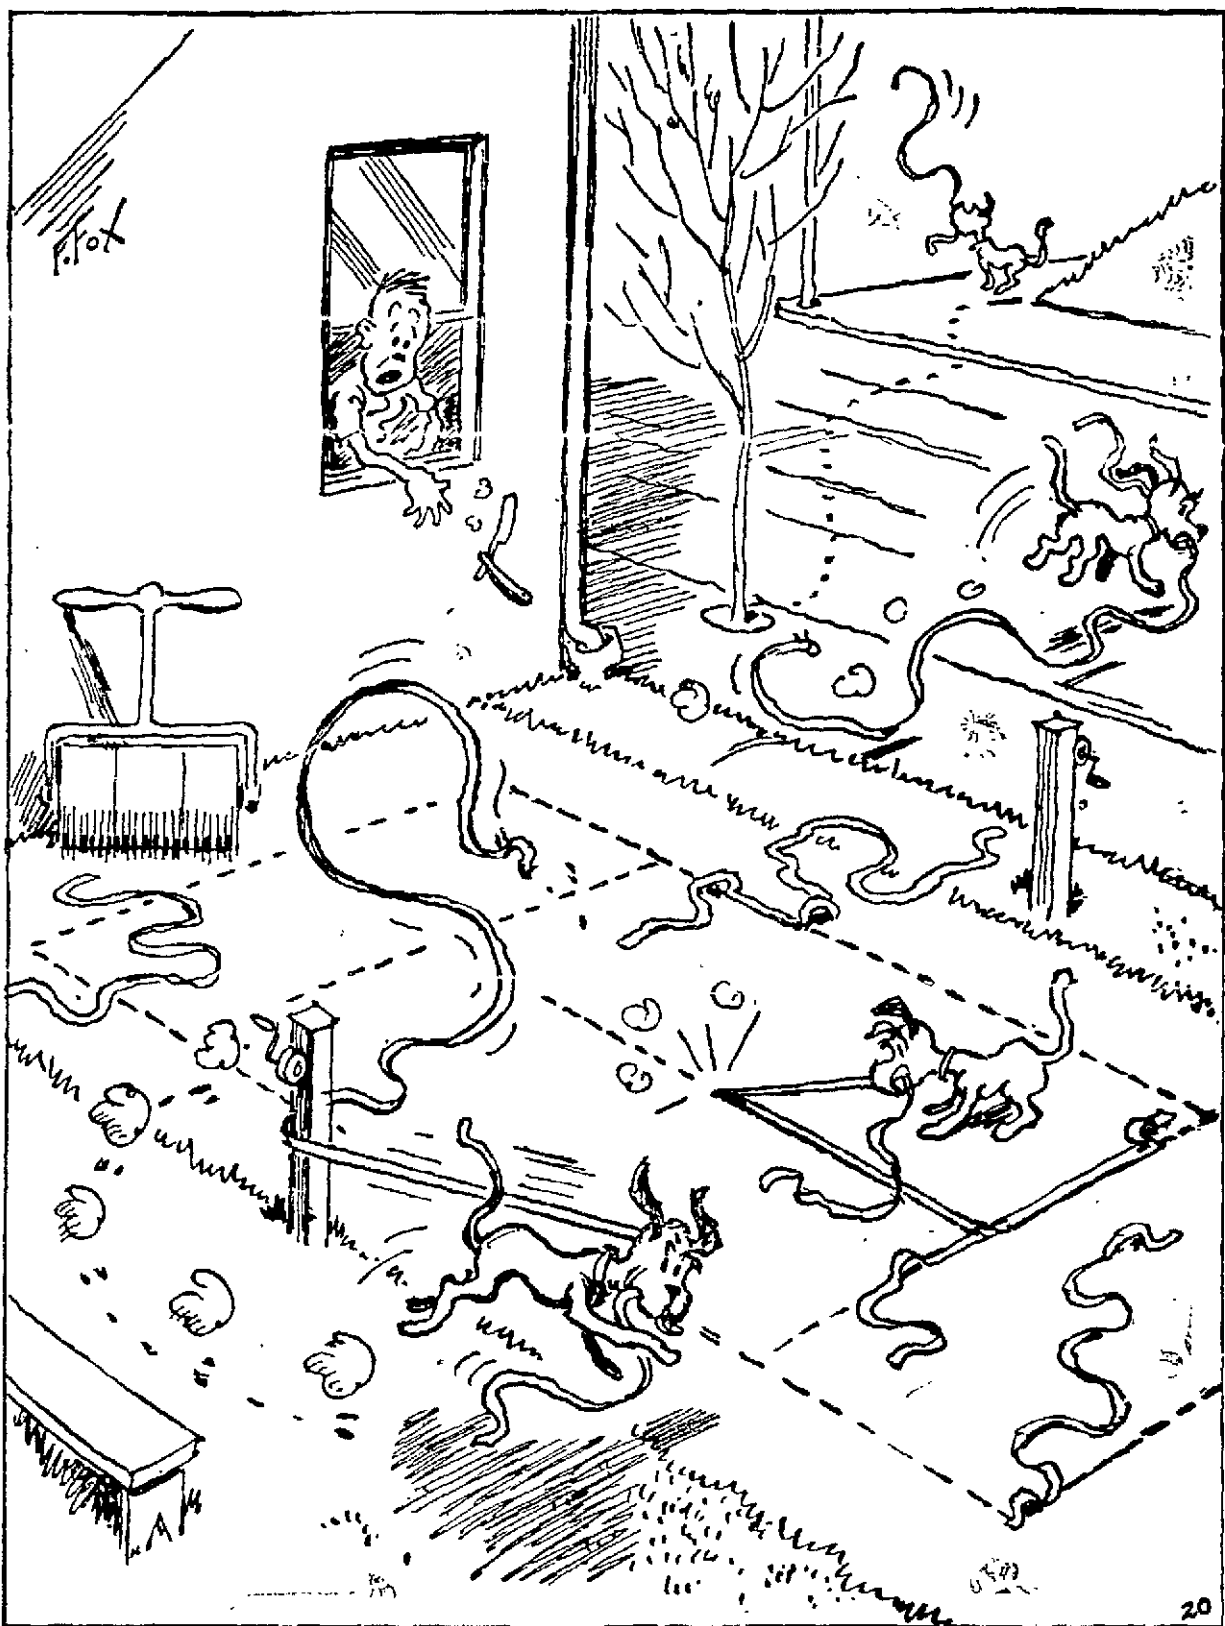

Employees Oakland TRIBUNE: I cannot too warmly express my appreciation for the kind response which you made to our request for the "Pay of a Day." It is, indeed, gratifying when the wage earner comes to the front as you have done in this present campaign.

The Red Cross is under a deep debt of gratitude to you all.

Yours very truly,
R. B. AYER,
Chairman Second War Fund Campaign.

SAYS RAILROADS USE GOVERNMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—Attorney George W. Bradley, representing the Sacramento Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, at yesterday's hearing before the State Railroad Commission on the question of jurisdiction over rates and practices of government-operated railroads, declared that the railroads were using the government of the United States to obstruct state regulation.

"Once again," he said, "we find the same old lineup of the railroads opposing state regulation that has been fighting state control ever since 1890, but this time we find the representatives of the carriers posing as representatives of the government. This commission cannot but notice that this time they seem to be gloating over the discovery of a new way by which they hope to deprive the commission of its powers."

Attorney C. W. Durbrow of the Southern Pacific legal staff, but now representing General Counsel John Barton Payne of the Railroad Administration, jumped to his feet.

"We are here acting under instructions of the attorney-general," he said. "That is the only reply to the accusation that has been made. The government has accomplished what the carriers have tried to do for years. It has sanctioned the anti-pooling regulations and the Sherman anti-trust act, and it has recognized the necessity of the carriers co-operating with each other to serve the country in the most efficient way."

The hearing has been taken under advisement by the commission. On the findings depends to a large extent the result of ten important rate and switching cases.

300 SKILLED WIRE MEN ARE NEEDED IN ARMY

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—The army recruiting office at San Francisco has been notified that the government wants 300 men skilled in telephone and telegraph work for immediate enlistment, and training at Fort Leavenworth, Kas. Men of draft age will be accepted, it was announced.

Norman Ross Makes First Trip in Air

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 29.—Flying Cadet Norman Ross of San Francisco, holder of many records for swimming, has made his first training flight at Rockwell field under the instruction of Sergeant T. Curtis, a veteran flier. Sergeant Curtis predicted that Ross would become as great a flier as he is a swimmer.

"He is as cool as a cucumber," said Sergeant Curtis after Ross' flight, "and uses excellent judgment."

Major John Purroy Mitchell, former mayor of New York, today returned to the Rockwell field aerodrome after a successful trip at the head of a squadron of six bombing machines. He is nearly through with his studies and is expected soon to wear the silver wings marking the reserve military aviator.

BRITISH CONCRETE SHIP.
LONDON, May 29.—England's first big concrete ship is 150 feet long, with a beam of 24½ feet and displaces 900 tons. Her carrying capacity is 400 tons. Compared to the fleet, the 6000-ton concrete ship recently launched on the Pacific Coast of the United States, the British vessel is a rather small affair, but Lloyd's has classed her as A-1.

ACTRESS UNDER ARREST LEAVES

Miss Mary Gray, known in vaudeville as Mary Clark, who was arrested yesterday by Inspectors Emigh and Robinson on a warrant issued in New York City charging her with the embezzlement of $6000 and a diamond ring from her brother, Charles Gray, famous jockey, will start back for the metropolis tomorrow in charge of Detective Sergeants John Armstrong and F. J. Farley, who have extradition papers for the prisoner. In the meantime Miss Gray is held in the city prison.

While the young woman maintains reticence regarding her affairs, the New York detectives declare that she is a member of a well known San Francisco family and that she formerly did a turn on the vaudeville stage with Agnes Muir, another young woman who accompanied her to Oakland after they fled from New York pursued by private detectives.

Miss Gray arrived in Oakland three weeks ago and purchased the lease on the Birchard apartments at 2133 Broadway, which she was conducting when located and placed under arrest.

According to the detectives, Charles Gray, the brother, is known as the champion jockey of South America, was formerly located in Buenos Aires. He and the sister had a safe deposit box, it is said.

PROFESSIONAL SAFE BLOWERS WORK IN CITY

Teggmen early this morning cracked the safe in the Iccemen's Social Club at 434 Eleventh street and escaped without attracting attention with about $25 in cash for their trouble. The robbery was not discovered until a janitor entered the rooms. An investigation is being made by Inspectors William Kyle and Timothy Flynn.

According to the police the job is one of the cleverest that has been pulled off in Oakland for many years, indicating that a gang of professional safe-blowers has infested the city. As a result Chief of Police Nedderman has issued orders to all patrolmen that special caution be taken on their beats to watch the many safes which are left open to view from the front windows.

The door of the big safe was blown clean from the sides. A large Stilson wrench had been used to pry off the combination dial and the nitro-glycerine was poured into the aperture.

Janitors and watchmen in the Odd Fellows building adjoining at Eleventh and Franklin and in the Security Bank building at Eleventh and Broadway did not hear the explosion nor was the concussion perceptible. Apparently no one in the streets heard or felt the explosion.

According to Inspector Kyle the job has only one superior in many years, and that was the robbery of the Diamond grocery store seven years ago when Jimmie Courtney cracked the safe. Courtney was later arrested and did time for the job. The police say that he has dropped from sight so far as the police are concerned.

The teggmen used gloves to handle the job and thus frustrated any effort to obtain finger prints. For this reason the police are convinced that a gang of professionals is at work in the city. Tell-tale finger prints would at once give the police a clue as to the identity of the operators who undoubtedly have prison records.

A search is being made throughout the city in an effort to identify any known teggmen but the police believe that the men who did the job are not stopping in Oakland. Further safe robberies are anticipated by the police.

Miss Mary Gray, known in vaudeville as Mary Clark, who was arrested yesterday by Inspectors Emigh and Robinson on a warrant issued in New York City charging her with the embezzlement of $6000 and a diamond ring from her brother, Charles Gray, famous jockey, will start back for the metropolis tomorrow in charge of Detective Sergeants John Armstrong and F. IF YOU SEE STRING ON FIRE BOX DON'T PULL

When you see a piece of string hanging from a fire alarm box, and making it look very untidy, and making you feel that as one interested in the beauty of Oakland and the credit of the city, you should pull it off—DON'T DO IT!

If you do you'll not only turn in a fire alarm, but prove that you are just what he small boys who placed the string on the box expected to see come along and pull it!

The police today are seeking the small boys who "doped" several fire boxes with pieces of string, inserting a loop through the door and fastening it to the lever, and letting the other end hang innocently past by. They have been trying to pull off these strings, and several false alarms have been called out the fire department as a result.

"Unless there's a fire, leave the box alone," pleads Fire Chief Elliott Whitehead. "And if there's a piece of string on the box leave that alone, too."

PLANS COMPLETED FOR HEROES' DAY

War Heroes' Day at Shellmound Park tomorrow will be one of the largest gatherings of the allied nations ever held in the bay cities. The day's exercises have been arranged by the British California Dependents' Association and have been endorsed by all foreign consuls of the bay cities.

Every country of the allied cause will be represented. Two Californians just back from the fighting front, two of the first Americans sent home, will be specially honored. These men are Corporal Osborne de Varilla, the man who fired the first shot against the Huns when Pershing's men went into action, and Corporal Basil Bancroft of Oakland. Bancroft was in London when the war broke out and enlisted with the Scotch Highlanders, known as the "Ladies of Hell." He was honorably discharged and has come back to his parents' home in Oakland to recover from shell shock.

There will be a number of patriotic features, including national songs of the allies by noted prima donnas, Madame Lydia Sturtevant of the Italian Grand Opera Company, Madame de Grassi of Covent Garden Opera Company, and Madame Constantine of Australia will all be heard in patriotic songs.

The orator of the day will be Lieutenant J. C. Bagger of the British army, who has earned a nationwide reputation in this country by his able discourses on the war.

John A. Bishop of the British California Dependents is chairman of the day's program.

VICTIM OF SHOE THEFT KILLS SUSPECT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—The theft of 56 pairs of shoes caused the death of Edward Kelleher, alias Ed Kelly, alias Tom Kelly, a "two-time loser" from state's prison. Kelleher was shot down last night in his store, and early this morning Peter Scallia, a shoe dealer at 11 Plymouth avenue, went to the home of Detective Sergeant McGrath and confessed that he had done the shooting, and that he had slain Kelleher because he believed he had ruined him by looting his shoe store.

The shooting occurred in Kelleher's shoe store, 772 Howard street, and was followed by a man hunt through the streets, during which the police and citizens led by R. H. Cady pursued the fugitive for several blocks. He succeeded in escaping, however, and early today surrendered himself to Detective Sergeant McGrath.

Last November Scallia's little shoe store was robbed and his entire stock carried away by burglars. Kelleher's place had long been suspected by the police of being a "fence" for the disposal of stolen goods. There they found fifty-six pairs of shoes, which Scallia said he identified as being the ones stolen from his place of business.

Judge Sullivan, before whom the case was tried, was not convinced, holding that the makers of this foot-ware might have sold the fifty-six pairs of shoes to Kelleher.

Scallia brooded over his loss. He has a wife and six small children. The looting of his store ruined his business. He told his friends that if he could have recovered even this fifty-six pairs of shoes he might have started up in business again. But the law, he said, "would not give him justice." The shoes are still held by the police.

"I went to Kelleher to demand a settlement," Scallia told McGrath. "He refused to do anything for me, and when I pressed my demand, he made a move for his gun. I knew he was a desperate character, and I shot before he did."
